Definition of Special Educational Needs

Children have special educational needs if they have a learning difficulty which calls for special educational provision to be made for them.

Children have a learning difficulty if they:

- a) Have a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of children of the same age
- b) Have a disability which prevents, or hinders them from making use of educational facilities of a kind generally provided for children of the same age in schools within the area of the local education authority
- c) Are under compulsory school age and fall within the definition at (a) or (b) above or would so do if special educational provision was not made for them.

What should I do if I have concerns about my child? What will happen if the nursery have concerns about my child?

If you have any concerns speak to your child's keyworker, or make an appointment to see the SENCO. Our SENCo is Tamar Cohen. If we have any concerns we will speak to you as soon as possible.

The SENCO and Keyworker will assess your child's needs through a range of strategies

Once your child's individual needs have been identified the SENCO may need to contact specialised services - these can include Speech and Language therapists, The Communication and Autism Team, or an Educational Psychologist. We will always ask for your permission first.

The SENCO and the nursery team will monitor your child's progress and will meet with you regularly to discuss how your child is getting on.

You will be kept fully informed of all the support your child is receiving and you will be involved at every stage of the process.

Together with the SENCO and any specialised services, you will contribute to agreeing targets that will support your child's needs.

Our Team....

All of the staff at Bloomsbury Nursery School have received training to support children with a range of needs. Your child's keyworker is able to answer many questions, provide support and identify pathways with parents. The SENCo, will work with parents and keyworkers as a team.

Appropriate and effective personalised teaching and learning

At Bloomsbury Nursery School we are committed to supporting every child. To ensure we can do this effectively our team members attend a wide range of training and regularly seek advice from outside agencies and professionals in other settings.

The training that the nursery team receive is based on the individual needs of the children who attend. The SENCO, with the support of the Headteacher and Governors, ensures that training is up to date and is appropriate.

All of our educators are trained to use Makaton to support communication.

Before any intervention, we ensure that we have given the children time to settle, feel safe and happy, and build positive relationships. We spend time Getting To Know each child.

Stand aside for a while and leave room for learning, observe carefully what children do, and then, if you have understood well, perhaps teaching will be different from before.
